“I found it to be the most stimulating, amusing and at times deeply moving opening presentation I have ever heard at a conference. And you are to be congratulated for an absolutely superb effort...your message and the way it is presented to an audience is quite outstanding. One of my many roles currently is as Chairman of the Lonsdale Limited Board and it was terribly important from a Lonsdale perspective that the conference got off to a positive start and your presentation succeeded in absolutely every way in doing that. Over the remaining 3 days of the conference there were many references to your session and even now I often reflect on many of the things that you said that day”.
